

Envista Partners with Women in DSO® to empower current and future generations of leaders in the dental industry

BREA, Calif., Jan. 31, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Envista Holdings Corporation (NYSE: NVST) ("Envista") announced today that it has joined Women in DSO® as a Platinum Industry partner. Women in DSO advances and empowers female professionals, specifically in the dental support organization (DSO) industry.

Envista was invited to partner because of its demonstrated commitment to advancing female leadership in dentistry and its working relationship with many of the nation's largest DSOs. As part of the partnership, Envista will support Women in DSO as they help women realize their career aspirations, develop the next generation of female leaders in the dental space, and support those already running dental practice groups. Envista's Network Empowering Xcellence and Transformation (NEXT) group, which caters to women who work in all dental fields, further complements the Women in DSO mission.

Alexis Bruce, Vice President of DSO and Special Markets for Nobel Biocare, has been appointed to represent the organization on the Women in DSO Advisory Board. "Empowering women to help them achieve their career goals and obtain leadership positions in the dental industry is aligned with Envista's commitment to the dental community and goal of democratizing dental care," said Alexis. "I look forward to helping guide Women in DSO as it continues to help shatter glass ceilings for women in dentistry."

Dr. Aman Kaur, President and Founder of Women in DSO, shares the excitement of this new partnership, "I am thrilled to welcome Envista into our vibrant community. Our new partnership is a testament to the commitment of both organizations to advancing diversity, fostering collaboration, and empowering women leaders within the dental support organization space. Together, we embark on a journey of shared values, mutual growth, and unparalleled opportunities. I look forward to the positive impact we will create together for our members and the dental industry as a whole."
